

THE fitzwilliam HOTEL

Magnificent. Simply magnificent...

Find...

...yourself in the heart of Dublin on that august and splendid Georgian square, St. Stephen's Green, at the top of Dublin's finest shopping avenue, Grafton Street. If you know it, you know it's perfect. Exactly what you want, exactly. Where you. Want. It.

...something really unique, a place from which you can...

...walk...

...through the doors into a quirky feeling that you've been here before. A warm, knowing smile appears on your lips in a 5 star hotel designed by Sir Terence Conran that's just a little bit different. We stand quietly, discretely, a contemporary design in a classic setting upstaged only by the kind of thoughtful, attentive, welcoming personal service. You thought. Had. Disappeared. Gone. Forever.

...to just about everywhere, returning to...

...sleep...

...a soft, deep, refreshing sleep on a cloud of cotton and feathers in the arms of absolute, unapologetic luxury of a four-poster bed. Sleep, and awoken blinking and wondering and just lie there for a minute. And enjoy. That. Indescribable. Feeling.

...in a cocoon of luxury, or to...

...eat...

...in Thornton's where Ireland's most acclaimed chef creates culinary masterpieces that are never the same. Taste the sumptuous. The sublime divine. And savor and then admire. The elusive. Michelin praise. On. The. Wall.

...something extraordinary that you will long, long remember, and a...

...drink...

...in the hotel bar, the Inn On The Green, where the great and the good mix in frivolous ritual with cocktails and black pints. A drink or a taste of the humour that has always, always made this city unique. Or go to the uber-chic Citron, for a bite. It's all right. Here. At your. Elbow.

...where you feel like a member of the cast you spontaneously...

...meet...

...somewhere that says everything before you even speak. You have arranged this so you want to make an impression. You mean business. But not just any business at any quality. Business of a certain standard. Five star business. Mind. You.

...and leave them thinking, hard, while you keep an appointment with someone to...

...spoil... •

...you rotten. Massage, nails, facial, waxing, tan – everything you need to feel better. Or look fantastic. Or, we suggest, both. And ascend to the huge, ultra-luxurious Penthouse with your own butler and bar, cinema and grand piano. Exquisite with.

Plenty. Of. Wow.

...impossible to top...

...because this is as good as it gets. Anywhere in the world.
You will not. Find. An. Equal.

...yourself and you can depart as a new person entirely, as this is...
